WORCESTER COUNTY ST. PATRICK'S PARADE STANDARDS AND REGULATIONS FOR PARTICIPATING UNITS

These standards and regulations are published by the Worcester County St. Patrick's Parade Committee to assist float sponsors, musical units, marching and governmental units, in understanding the Parade invitation and selection process, the effort necessary to fulfill the commitment of producing a quality parade, the Parade policies and relationships with the Parade Committee that affects them, to guide participants in preparing for and marching in the Parade, to make them aware of the rules that govern their participation in the Parade, and to familiarize them with the Parade Committee members who work in putting the line of march on the street. The Parade Committee attempts to revise this manual as necessary in a timely way, but may issue revisions by memorandums between publications. This information can also be found at www.stpatsparade.com.

RULES GOVERNING PARTICIPATION IN THE WORCESTER COUNTY ST. PATRICK'S PARADE

Please carefully read the following information. It is basic information for parade participants.

These rules are necessary for the Parade Committee to present the best possible viewing event for the audience on the street. Because of this each participating unit must adhere to the regulations of the Parade Committee and to directives given by the Parade Committee marshals on the day of the Parade.

As a condition of participation in the Parade, your unit must sign the participation agreement indicating that you have read this information and agree to abide by these Parade standards.

I. AN INTRODUCTION TO THE PARADE FOR PARTICIPANTS

The purpose of the Worcester County St. Patrick's Parade is to provide:

1. A traditional forum for the County's Irish Community to honor the Patron Saint of Ireland, St. Patrick, and to demonstrate its Celtic Culture, heritage and contributions to the United States as a part of its multi-cultural community.
2. Entertainment for the citizens of Worcester County, Massachusetts
 - i. to be considered family oriented and
 - ii. to be exclusive of social and political protest, except for matters pertaining to the reunification of Ireland and then such an entry must be peaceful.
3. A forum for other ethnic communities to participate.
4. Participation only by invitation of the voting members.
5. A parade to be held on the Sunday preceding St. Patrick's Day, the Seventeenth of March.

Over the years, the size of the Parade has grown and the quality of the participating units has increased. Each year more and more units have sought to enter the Parade. With the Parade's increased popularity and with the beginning of the live television coverage of the Parade, the timing of the Parade's movement and limitation of the number of participating units has become necessary. The quality of each participating unit's presentation to the audience is both the key to a successful parade and to selection for participation. We invite what our viewers want - the best units!

You have been invited on the basis of the anticipated quality of your unit's participation.

VII MARCHING UNITS

7.1 Non-uniformed marching units are invited to participate only in conjunction with their sponsorship of an invited band or float; and are subject to other rules governing marching units and participating units.

7.2 Marching units must be uniformly dressed or costumed with each member wearing the complete uniform or costume covering from shoulders to feet.

7.3 Marching units should have an entertainment purpose and function consisting of their costumes, drill, march, choreography or similar aspect, or be invited because of being honored by the Worcester County St. Patrick's Parade Committee or because they have honored or supported the purposes of the Worcester County St. Patrick's Parade Committee.

7.4 Marching units are to be identified by a sign professionally prepared, 30 by 60 inches in size. The sign is to contain only the name of the marching unit. It may not contain or indicate any commercial sponsorship.

7.5 Marching units will only have their parade-approved identification sign. Banners, placards or handouts, or other messages of any form in the line of march or in the view of the television cameras is strictly prohibited. Distribution flyers, handouts or other materials or items is also strictly prohibited.

7.6 Marching units may not be shouting slogans or partisan messages, expressing support for any subject not reflecting the stated theme of the Parade Committee, engaging in any indecorous behavior, or leave the line of march or ranks to shake hands or engage in conversation with Parade viewers.

7.7 All other rules in these Standards and Regulations apply to marching units.

VI. MUSIC UNITS

- 6.1 The reason for inviting and accepting each musical unit is to provide a musical entertainment to the viewers on the street. Accordingly it is expected that each musical unit will play continuously throughout the Parade with only those breaks that are necessary for the unit's members to refresh themselves. Additionally, all units will perform before the reviewing stand. This will ensure a continuous musical entertainment for the street viewers.
- 6.2 Each band should have an effective form of visual marching identification consisting of the band's name and location for viewers on the street. Acceptable identification consists of banners or individual letters carried by band members dressed the same or coordinated uniform as the band or accompanying drill, baton or flag unit.
- 6.3 Music units cannot carry any signs of sponsors or otherwise indicate the names of sponsors or benefactors that they have independently secured.
- 6.4 All bands are advised that there is no stopping during the Parade except on pre-programmed occasions that have been directed by the Parade Committee and by the Parade marshals.
- 6.5 All musical units must be present in the staging area one (1) hour before the commencement of the Parade. The Parade begins at 12:00 p.m.

5.15 Drivers - Hire only those drivers who are knowledgeable about the floats and are able to make the required maneuvers and properly licensed for type of vehicle being operated.

5.16 Horns and Sirens: Drivers and other persons on any vehicles are not to honk horns, activate sirens, or other noise devices unless an emergency exists. Horns, sirens and similar noise interferes with the music of units before and after the float.

5.17 It is the builder's responsibility to design and construct a safe and mechanically competent float that will traverse the parade route without having to be towed and/or otherwise interfering with the successful presentation of the Parade. The Worcester County St. Patrick's Parade Committee does not assume any responsibility for the construction or operation of any float by any builder or sponsor.

5.18 Giant Balloons are covered by float rules where applicable. There must be sufficient number of handlers as determined by the builder. The sponsor needs to supply the handlers for the balloon.

consideration will be given to the use of outwalkers and the expansion of float riders count where it is deemed vital to support the theme of the float. Outwalkers must be uniformly costumed and the costume must be appropriate to and coordinated with the theme of the float.

(d) No persons may leave or climb off or climb on to a float during the Parade or after the float has left the staging area.

Parade marshals will direct units to the unloading and assembly areas. Be certain the Parade marshal in your Parade division area knows which unit you are. Verify that you are in the correct staging area for your position within your division. Any questions will be resolved by the Parade marshal assigned to your division staging area.

All units are responsible for knowing their position in the assembly area and their position in the Parade.

3.7 There is no stopping during the Parade except as directed to do so by Parade marshals. Stopping causes lapses in the Parade and breaks in the continuity of the Parade for those viewing it on the street. The Parade marshals are assigned to your division and to particular locations along the parade route, who are completely responsible for the division and/or Parade route area. Look only to these individuals for direction.

3.8 Samples of merchandise, candy or other articles are prohibited from being distributed by participating units, thrown from floats or given out by persons associated with the Parade, while the Parade is in progress.

A REMINDER

The Worcester County St. Patrick's Parade Committee is trying to present the best quality event possible for the viewers watching on the street. These Rules are intended to serve that purpose. That is the only reason for them. They should be considered - as they are named - "standards" of quality. We seek a quality event in its entirety.
